DLIFLC observes breaking of the fast with Iftar feast

PRESIDIO OF MONTEREY, Calif. — The Islamic community of the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center is observing the Ramadan tradition of the breaking of the fast, which is called Iftar, Friday Aug. 19, 2011 at the Weckerling Community Center.

In keeping with tradition, the opening prayers and feast will start at sunset (approximately 7:45 p.m.).

Media must contact the DLIFLC media relations office prior to 4 p.m. Friday and will be required to arrive at the Franklin Street Gate no later than 7:15 p.m. to cover the event.

The DLIFLC is the Department of Defense's premier language instruction facility and trains an average of 3,000 military linguists each year in 24 different languages, making it the largest language institute in the world.

Please call DLIFLC's Strategic Communications office at (831) 242-7472 for more details.
